Chairman Corbin held a second on Trustee Bishop’s motion. Trustee Lowe requested discussion on her motion. Trustee Bishop appealed the decision of the Chair and requested a call for a vote. Trustee Miller suggested a recommendation from General Counsel on the motion presented by Trustee Bishop and also the motion presented by Trustee Challis Lowe. Chairman Corbin announced a five-minute recess.

Trustee Lowe lead the discussion of her motion. Trustee Hanna asked President Fred Gainous if he had the leadership skills to operate the university now that he has been in office for two years. Dr. Gainous replied with an “emphatic” yes, and he continued his response to Trustee Hanna and the Board.

Trustee Miller offered the following friendly amendment to Trustee Challis Lowe’s motion: That the Board of Trustees accepts an amendment to Dr. Gainous’ contract. In the amendment, Dr. Gainous’ services as president will formally end on the date of January 1, 2005. In December, the Board of Trustees will finish the Evaluation process with formal input from the National Alumni Association, Faculty Senate, and the student body. After the results of the evaluation are announced, during the December 14, 2004 meeting, a unanimous vote of the Board would allow for possible renegotiation of the contract. Trustee Miller discussed his reasons for the extension, which allows the opportunity for an orderly transition. Trustee Lowe questioned if Trustee Miller was asking that she accept an amendment that would defer the termination of the contract from being effective immediately to being effective January 1, 2005 without contingencies, or if he was recommending that it be deferred with contingencies. Trustee Miller replied January 1, 2005 with the only contingency being a unanimous vote for re-negotiation of the contract by the Board of Trustees. Trustee Lowe declined the amendment. Trustee Miller offered the amendment as a hostile amendment to be presented before the Board. Trustee Bishop seconded the amendment. Chairman Corbin acknowledged that there was an amendment on the floor, a motion on the floor that was seconded and that the amendment was out of order. Trustee Miller clarified that the motion to amend did not have to be accepted by the maker of the motion. He noted that as a friendly amendment, it would have to be accepted, but he is offering it as a hostile motion to be presented to the board to vote. Mr. Miller appealed to General Counsel. General Counsel provided clarification of the Voting process. Trustee Miller provided further clarification of the amendment and Trustee Lowe accepted the friendly amendment.
rustee Lowe provided clarification of the motion to the board: That the Board terminate the contract of President Fred Gainous, President effective January 1, 2005 unless the board unanimously decides to re-negotiate it, also the President’s Evaluation Committee will provide a Performance Evaluation Report to the board by the December 14, 2004 on the performance of the President that was promised as a follow on his last performance evaluation.
