TITLE IX
REGULATION
“No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex; be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any educational program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.”

- Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 to the 1964 Civil Rights Act
The University is responsible for:

• Providing immediate action upon notification of sexual violence
• Disseminating a notice of nondiscrimination
• Designating at least one employee as Title IX Coordinator
• Adopting and publishing grievance procedures
• Implementing training and education programs
• Providing supportive remedies to the survivor and respondent
Currently:

• Title IX Regulation is in compliance with federal guidelines

• Training has begun

• We continue to conduct Title IX workshops for our students and employees
FLORIDA A&M UNIVERSITY

Founded in 1887 as the State Normal College for Colored Students. Florida A&M University (FAMU) is the only historically state supported educational facility for African Americans in Florida. It has always been coeducational. In 1890, the second Morrill Act was passed. This enabled the school to become the Black Land Grant College for the State of Florida. In 1891, the college was moved from its original location to its present location which was once the site of "Highwood," Territorial Governor W.P. Duval's slave plantation. The site is one of the highest hills in Tallahassee. The school was known as Florida A&M College from 1909 until 1953 when...