GENERAL INFORMATION

A Historical Overview

Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University (FAMU), founded on October 3, 1887, as the State Normal College for Colored Students, began classes with 15 students and two instructors. FAMU's destiny -- to become an institution of higher learning, striving toward even greater heights of academic excellence. Today, Florida A&M University is one of 11 institutions in Florida's State University System, and excellence - "Excellence with Caring" - remains its goal.

Leading the State Normal College through its infancy were two distinguished citizens and educators. They were Thomas DeSaille Tucker, an outstanding attorney from Pensacola who was selected as the college's first president, and Thomas Van Rennasaler Gibbs, a state representative from Duval County who was Tucker's top assistant. In 1891, the college received $7,500 under the Second Morrill Act for agricultural and mechanical arts education; thus, it became Florida's land grant institution for blacks. The college was moved from Copeland Street (now the site of Florida State University) to its present location, and its name was changed to the State Normal and Industrial College for Colored Students. It was at this new site that President Tucker initiated his plans for institutional growth and development.

In the 1900s, this young institution flourished under the leadership of Nathan B. Young. In 1905, management of the college was transferred from the Board of Education to the Board of Control. This event was significant because it officially designated the college as an institution of higher education. The name was changed in 1909 to Florida Agricultural and Mechanical College for Negroes (FAMC). The following year, with an enrollment of 317 students, the college awarded its first degrees. In spite of a setback caused by a tragic fire which destroyed Duval Hall (the main building which housed the library, administrative offices, cafeteria and other college agencies), progress was made when a gift of $10,000 was presented to the University by Andrew Carnegie for the erection of a new library facility. This facility held the distinction of being the only Carnegie Library located on a black land-grant college. President Young directed the growth of the college, with limited resources and expectations, to a four-year degree-granting institution, offering the Bachelor of Science degree in education, science, home economics, agriculture, and mechanical arts.

Under the administration of John Robert Edward Lee, Sr., Florida A&M College acquired much of the physical and academic image it has today. Buildings were constructed; more land was purchased; more faculty was hired; courses were upgraded, and accreditation was received from several state agencies. By 1944, Florida A&M College had constructed 48 buildings, accumulated 396 acres of land, and had 812 students and 122 staff members. In 1949, under the guidance of William H. Gray, Jr., expansion, along with reorganization, continued; the college obtained an Army ROTC unit, and student enrollment had grown to more than 2,000.

Perhaps the greatest achievement under the presidency of Dr. George W. Gore, Jr., was the elevation of the school to university status. In 1953, the college's name was changed by legislative action from Florida Agricultural and Mechanical College to Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University (FAMU). Obtaining university status meant restructuring existing programs and designing new academic offerings to meet the demands of producing quality students at the professional and graduate levels. Between 1953 and 1968, the Schools of Pharmacy, Law, Graduate Studies, and Nursing were created.

During the years 1950-68, the university experienced its most rapid growth. Twenty-three buildings were erected, with construction and renovation costs totaling more than $14 million. These facilities included: the Dairy Barn, Faculty Duplexes, Law Wing of Coleman Library; Gibbs, Tucker, and Truth Halls; Agriculture and Home Economics Building (Perry Paige), Student Union Building, Demonstration School Building and Cafeteria; Health and Physical Education Building, Music and Fine Arts Complex, High School Gymnasium and Stadium. The hospital was completed and operative. The university's staff was increased by more than 500. At this time, the four-quarter plan was implemented, and the school became the first Negro institution to become a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Enrollment increased to more than 3,500.

With Dr. Benjamin L. Perry, Jr., at the helm, the 1970s brought further growth to Florida A&M University. FAMU experienced a decade of rapid transition during a time when federal laws were demanding a desegregated unitary system. His administration is credited with the preservation of FAMU's autonomy. In 1971, FAMU was recognized as a full partner in the nine-university, public higher education system of Florida. The program and academic areas within the institution were extended to include the Black Archives Research Center and Museum, established as a state repository for black history and culture; the Division of Sponsored Research; the program in medical sciences, in conjunction with FSU and the University of Florida; the development of the School of Architecture; a Naval ROTC unit; establishment of the cooperative programs in agriculture; and a degree-granting program in Afro-American Studies. Enrollment at FAMU increased from 3,944 (1969) to 5,024 (1970). The university was reorganized into academic areas instead of departments. The physical plants were improved by the construction of the Women's Complex (apartment type dormitory), Clifton Dyson Pharmacy Building, new poultry building and dairy cattle resting shed and renovation of University Commons, Coleman Library, Tucker Hall and the FAMU Hospital into the presently named, Foote-Hilyer Administration Center (FHAC).

The 1980s served as a model for productive development at Florida A&M University. Under the administration of Dr. Walter L. Smith, the university grew to eleven schools and colleges, and a division of graduate studies, research, and continuing education. In 1984, the university was granted the authority to offer its first Doctor of Philosophy degree, the Ph.D. in Pharmacology. The '80s also saw the expansion of the Gaither Athletic Center, which includes the construction of a new Women's Athletic Complex equipped with a track, an Olympic pool, men's and women's weight training rooms, and softball and baseball fields. Bragg Memorial Stadium was renovated and expanded to provide seating for some 25,500 spectators, and a modern field house was erected. The old laundry was converted into the Industrial Education Classroom-Laboratory. New facilities were constructed to house the Schools of Allied Health Sciences, Architecture, Business and Industry, and Nursing. Construction and renovation projects amounted to more than $34 million. Under the leadership of Dr. Smith, the university launched the Centennial Celebration Fund for establishment of a university endowment.

In 1985, construction of a new corridor of history was begun as Dr. Frederick S. Humphries became the eighth president of Florida A&M University. Under his leadership, FAMU experienced significant growth and unsurpassed accomplishments. President Humphries had the distinction of presiding over the University's Centennial Celebration: October 2, 1986-December 31, 1987. This commemorative event, which centered upon the theme, "A Legacy to Preserve-A Future to Design," was initiated with the president's inauguration, highlighted with many activities (lectures, concerts, convocations, etc.) and honors, and culminated with the burial of a time capsule.

Dr. Humphries' unique administrative initiatives heightened the appeal for FAMU to high school students, parents, and other members of the public. Some of the achievements made during President Humphries' administration include the following: Florida A&M University received national recognition for record-breaking enrollment. In 1985, enrollment was 5,100. By 1992 these statistics showed total enrollment had nearly doubled with at 9,551. The enrollment for the 1998/99 academic year reached approximately 12,000.

In addition to increased enrollment, the University consistently ranked nationally among the top five colleges and universities for enrolling National Achievement finalists. Due to an aggressive and competitive campaign to attract more talented students, FAMU climbed steadily from fourth place in 1989 to first place (1992, 1995, and 1997), and second place (1993 and 1994), surpassing institutions such as Harvard, Yale, and Stanford. Black Issues in Higher Education also cited FAMU, in 1999, for awarding more baccalaureates to African Americans than any institution in the nation.

FAMU successfully completed requirements for establishing eight Eminent Scholars Chairs through the State Major Gifts Program: the Warner-Lambert Chair in the College of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences; the Garth Reeves and the Knight Foundation Chairs in the School of Journalism and Graphic Communication; the Anheuser-Busch, Centennial and Financial Services Chairs in the School of Business and Industry; the Carrie Meek Chair in the College of Education and the Foster Edmonds Chair in the College of Arts and Sciences.

At the 1989 Spring Commencement Exercises, the University awarded its first Ph.D. degree to Hyacinth Chi Akunne in the College of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences. The University presented its second doctor of philosophy degree to Fred Foreman (FAMU-FSU College of Engineering) during the 1995 Spring Commencement Exercises. Presently, the University has 11 programs that offer the doctoral degree. They are: pharmaceutical sciences; physics; biomedical, chemical, mechanical, civil, industrial and electrical engineering; educational leadership; environmental science; and entomology - a cooperative program with the University of Florida.

The FAMU Marching "100" Band, under the direction of Dr. William P. Foster, Director of Bands, was invited by the French government to participate in the Bastille Day Parade as the official representative from the United States. This event was held in celebration of the Bicentennial of the French Revolution. The Marching "100" continues to perfect its legacy of excellence, which has resulted in it being labeled as the "Best Marching Band in the Nation" by Sports Illustrated (August, 1992). The band received national recognition, in January 1993, when it performed in the 52nd Inauguration Parade in Washington, D.C., by invitation of President-Elect William "Bill" Clinton.

Tremendous efforts have been made to upgrade facilities and construct new buildings during the past decade. Completed projects include construction of the Benjamin L. Perry

General Classroom and Science Research Building; expansion of the School of Business and Industry's east and west wings; the FAMU/FSU College of Engineering; the new College of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences building; expansion of the School of Allied Health Sciences; a new Student Services Center; a 400-car parking garage; a 360-bed expansion at Palmetto Housing; remodeling and expansion of the Foster-Tanner Complex; and construction of the Frederick S. Humphries Science Research Center. Recently completed projects include the new School of Journalism and Graphic Communication's building and the Campus Recreation Center. Projects currently under construction include the FAMU Developmental Research School (FAMU-DRS), the Multipurpose Gymnasium and the renovation of the Commons Building.

Most significantly, during the celebration of its 110th Anniversary, Florida A&M University was selected as the 1997-98 College of the Year by TIME Magazine-Princeton Review. FAMU was selected as the winner from among six finalist including: DePaul University, Chicago; DePauw University, Greencastle, Indiana; the University of Iowa, Iowa, City, Iowa; University of California, Los Angeles; Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut; and the University of California State System. FAMU was the first institution in the country to receive this honor from this magazine.

In January 2002, Henry Lewis III, Pharm. D., Dean of the College of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, was appointed interim president by the Board of Trustees.

May 17, 2002, the Board of Trustees named Fred Gainous, Ed. D., an alumnus, the ninth president of FAMU. Prior to his presidency, Dr. Gainous was the chancellor of the State Community College System in Alabama.

On December 14, 2004, the Florida A&M University Board of Trustees named Castell Vaughn Bryant, Ed. D., interim president.

In February 2007, Dr. James Ammons, chancellor of North Carolina Central University in Durham, N.C., was named the 10th president of Florida A&M University. Dr. Ammons served as provost and vice president for Academic Affairs for Florida A&M University from October, 1995 until becoming chancellor of North Carolina Central University in 2001. Dr. Ammons commenced his presidency at Florida A&M University on July 2, 2007.

FAMU can credit much of its present academic stature to the leadership of its distinguished presidents: Thomas DeSaille Tucker (1887-1901); Nathan B. Young (1901-1923); John Robert Edward Lee, Sr. (1924-1944); William H. Gray, Jr. (1944-1949); George W. Gore, Jr. (1950-1968); Benjamin L. Perry, Jr. (1968-1977); Walter L. Smith (1977-1985); Frederick S. Humphries (1985-2001); Fred Gainous (2002-2004); and Dr. James H. Ammons (2007-present); and acting presidents: W.H.A. Howard (1923-24); J.B. Bragg (1944); and H. Manning Efferson (1949-50); Henry Lewis III, interim president (2002); Castell Vaughn Bryant, interim president (2004); and Larry Robinson, Chief Executive Officer (May 2007 – July 2007).

For more than 120 years, Florida A&M University has served the citizens of the State of Florida and the nation through its provision of preeminent educational programs...programs which were the building blocks of a legacy of academic excellence with caring. FAMU, “Florida’s Opportunity University,” is committed to meeting the challenges and needs of future generations.

Office Location:

301 Foote-Hilyer Administration Center

1700 Lee Hall Drive

Tallahassee, Florida 32307-3200

Telephone and Fax numbers:

Tel: (850) 599-3276   Fax: (850) 561-2551

Official Academic Calendars

All University official academic calendars may be viewed on-line. Go to the FAMU Home Page at www.famu.edu and click on the link for Academics and choose the link for Registrar.

Academic Advising

Seeking academic advising is crucial to a student's success in selecting an appropriate academic major, making timely progress through the required curriculum, and graduating. Every student is provided advisement assistance by an academic advisor. Students who have not declared a major will be advised through the School of General Studies.

Academic Grievances

The purpose of an academic grievance is to give students a fair review and an opportunity to be heard. Students are normally expected to follow the procedures established by the college, school and/or academic unit in which they are pursuing a course of study; however, academic grievances regarding a course grade must be filed with the college, school and/or academic unit in which the course is offered.

Each college, school and/or academic unit within the University has internal procedures for addressing student grievances pertaining to academic matters. Academic grievance procedures are available in the Office of the Dean of the respective college or school, and in the office of the appropriate officer in charge of an academic unit.

Office Of University Assessment

The Office of University Assessment (OUA) is dedicated to supporting continuous improvement at Florida A&M University. The mission of the office is "to promote a culture of evidence-gathering at FAMU through the implementation of a manageable and sustainable assessment process that leads to quality improvement." This means gathering information about what the University does to promote the educational success of students, analyzing that information, and looking for ways to continually improve. There are four main goals for the OUA:

1. Academic Improvement – To assess the provision of a distinctive quality undergraduate and graduate educational experience.
2. Service and Support Improvement - To assess the effectiveness of administrative processes and support services.
3. Accountability - To facilitate the implementation of assessment activities in compliance with the accountability goals and measures established by the Board of Trustees and accreditation bodies.
4. Enhanced Communication on Assessment - To promote communication including training, related to student learning outcomes among administrators, faculty, staff and students.

The University recognizes the importance of university-wide assessment activities in continuous improvement and institutional effectiveness. Thus, on June 12, 2008, the Board of Trustees adopted the “FAMU Assessment Policy”. This policy applies to all academic programs, including the general education program and to all administrative and educational support services and operations that support the academic programs. A major goal of assessment at FAMU is to support the University’s mission of “Excellence with Caring” and accountability to internal and external stakeholders by emphasizing the importance of systematic assessment planning, implementation , data collection and analysis, documentation, and reflection on the results to improve student outcomes and support services effectiveness.

FAMU is committed to providing students with a caring and supportive environment as well as the resources necessary to ensure their success and competitiveness in the world of work and further education. To this end, students may be required to participate in a number of university-wide assessment activities. Such activities may include standardized tests (e.g. MAPP), surveys (e.g. NSSE, Exit, Leavers and Alumni), focus groups and interviews, and portfolio reviews. Each of these assessment activities enables us to determine the extent to which FAMU’s programs and services meet the needs of students while maintaining high levels of quality support services.

Additionally, the OUA is the repository for all Academic Learning Compacts (ALCs) and assessment plans/reports in the University. Academic Learning Compacts are structured plans to account for student achievement in specified domains in baccalaureate degree programs in the State University System. Since fall 2005, FAMU has continued to make these ALCs available to the entering freshman class and prospective students.

Each academic program within the University is responsible for providing all of its prospective and current students with clearly defined ALCs, which are written in a user-friendly format. Academic programs distribute their ALCs to students through the University website and course syllabi.

The Office of International Education and Development

The Office of International Education and Development (OIED), a component of Academic Affairs, coordinates the University's international service functions in three areas: Education Abroad & Exchange Programs; International Student & Scholar Services; and International Research & Development. It serves as the official liaison between FAMU international students and scholars with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, and the U.S. Department of State to insure institutional and individual compliance with established immigration policies related to non-U.S. citizen enrollment and employment.

In its role to increase awareness about world affairs and the importance of learning about other countries, OIED sponsors two major events each year. Held in November, International Education Week was established by the U.S. Department of State and Department of Education to promote education abroad for Americans and exchange program that attract future leaders from abroad to learn about the United States. In the spring semester, OIED's International Awareness Week celebrates the benefits of international education and appreciation for campus cultural diversity in preparing students for a global environment.

OIED staff members provide advising to the FAMU Chapter of the Model United Nations Association. In collaboration with designated professors in the Department of Political Science, History, Geography and African-American Studies, MUNA provides global leadership training and insight into the workings of the United Nations. Members engage in local and national MUNA competitions.

OIED goals and objectives, supporting the university's Strategic Plan international initiatives, are met through the following units:

International Students and Scholars Services

This unit has official responsibility for advising international students and preparing employment documents of scholars hired in academic departments through the following support services:

- Academic advisement

- Advising on practical training experiences, employment policies and filing of U.S. taxes
- Issues related to obtaining social security numbers
- Advising on compliance related to obtaining and maintaining required insurance coverage

OIED also provides advising services to the International Student Union (ISU), an organization allowing non-U.S. FAMU students to have a collective voice in student government activities and campus life. It sponsors cultural events that not only introduce international students to the diversity of American communities and social activities in Tallahassee, but to the diverse cultures represented within the organization. Members can participate in the annual Florida International Leadership Conference with student delegations from other Florida public institutions in Altoona, FL. To focus on team building skills and increasing international student participation in home campus activities. ISU members also participate in community activities, such as the annual Tallahassee Reception for International Students, with international student organizations from other area campuses. Its annual Cultural Fusion is held during International Awareness Week.

Education Abroad and Exchanges

Education abroad coordinators advise students on enrollment and participation in meaningful international education experiences designed for learning foreign languages and acquiring knowledge about other countries and their diverse cultures. Education abroad consists of semester or year-long study abroad, short-term faculty-led service-learning and cultural excursion programs, and international internships. The staff also advises faculty on best practices to internationalize curricula that prepares FAMU students to meet the needs of multicultural communities and for careers requiring foreign language and regional or country specific expertise.

Information on international education programs, study abroad scholarships and fellowships, and U.S. Department of State internships is disseminated through campus media: the FAMUAN, campus newspaper; FAMU INFO, famu.edu announcements; the TV station, Cable TV-20; 90.5 radio station; and OIED's newsletter, Global Networks). One of the most popular and affordable short-term programs is the annual Spring Break Abroad, a cultural immersion experience for students and a curriculum development project for faculty.

International Research and Development

This unit has the primary responsibility for assisting the colleges, schools, and institutes in the development, funding and implementation of international research projects and the expansion of education abroad programs through linkages with international universities and governments. It promotes the development of interdisciplinary projects that increase the international involvement of faculty in research, teaching exchanges, professional development, and capacity building in developing countries. OIED's assistant vice president works with the General Counsel's office to facilitate the development of international initiatives through the formation of official university Memoranda of Agreements or Memoranda of Understanding proposed by the college, school, or institute administrators. OIED serves as the designated university custodian of all international agreements.

This unit has responsibility for screening and processing all non-immigrant employment petitions for foreign nationals on the H-1B temporary specialty employment visa or the J-1 exchange visa to promote educational and cultural exchanges. This unit facilitates and promotes compliance of foreign employment policies for non-immigrant and immigrant visa holders.

Diplomat-In-Residence Program

OIED hosts the Diplomat-In-Residence (DIR), a senior Foreign Service Officer who is appointed and funded by the U. S. Department of State. This person is responsible for increasing awareness of employment opportunities related to the U.S. Department of State; recruiting students for internships, fellowships and foreign service careers; and for serving as a resource person on foreign affairs in classrooms throughout North and Central Florida and Southern Georgia.

These tests are used for admission at either the undergraduate or graduate levels. The ACT and SAT National Tests are used for general admission purposes. The cut scores for the ACT are English-17, Mathematics-19, and Reading-18. The cut scores for the SAT are Math (Quantitative)-440 and Reading (Verbal)-440. The Bureau serves the tri-state area of Florida, Georgia and Alabama for professional and licensure testing.

Among the many integrated services of the Bureau, there are five opportunities to reduce the length of time it takes to complete a degree program by obtaining credit via examination, through programs such as:

- The Advanced Placement Programs (AP) - sponsored by the College Board, provides students with the opportunity to complete college-level studies during secondary school.
- The College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) - an exam where students can receive college credit for learning outside the college classroom.
- International Baccalaureate Program (IB) - from the General Certificate of Education Advanced Level (A-level G.C.E.), awards credits for student's prior academic course work from a recognized institution in their parent country.
- DANTES (Military Exam) - published by the American Council on Education (the use of college level credits based on military experience). DANTES exams are not given on campus.
- Dual Enrollment - this program allows high school students to earn college level credits at the university.

Another responsibility of the Test Service Bureau is the Course and Teacher Evaluation of Faculty by students. These evaluations are conducted annually during the Fall and Spring semesters. The basic purpose of the evaluations is to reflect the relationship between faculty and students in a formal teaching environment. However, testing for student placement, student advancement and scoring examinations given by professors in the classroom remain the overriding function of the Test Service Bureau. ### Tips for Students (Nine Steps to Getting Good Grades in College)

Step 1 – Attend Every Class. If you want to get good grades in college, you must attend every class—not almost every class—every class.

Step 2 – Be Organized. Save all computer files on disk or jump drive. Keep all returned papers, quizzes, and tests. Get phone numbers of fellow rattler classmates. “We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act, but a habit.” – Aristotle

Step 3 – Manage Your Time Well. Do not overextend yourself, plan ahead, be organized, make efficient use of your time, and do not become a professional extracurricular student.

Step 4 – Be Successful in the Classroom. Learn how to adapt to different instructors. Be prepared and on time for each class. Sit in front of the class whenever possible.

Step 5 – Take good notes. Be an active listener. Take notes that are easy to read. Go over notes as soon as possible.

Step 6 – Know How to Read a Textbook. Scan by reading subtitles, words in bold and italic print, summaries, charts, and review questions. Read with purpose and review by scanning the material to check your comprehension.

Step 7 – Study Smart. Find a good place to study. Organize your study time and know your learning style. Know how to memorize and remember information.

Step 8 – Reduce Test Anxiety. While a little anxiety before a test improves concentration and alertness, excessive worry, or test anxiety, can lower one's test scores.

Step 9 – Use Available Services. Computer Labs, Academic Advisor, Career Center, Counseling Center, Disability Services, Honors Programs, Library, etc...

*Denotes this section of the handbook was amended on 9-3-12.

Student organizations provide mandatory leadership and training to assist with governance of their individual organizations. These sessions are provided during the fall and spring semesters. At least three (3) members of an organization must be in attendance, two of which must be officers. Additional sessions are provided for advisors. Agenda topics include but are not limited to Robert's Rules of Order (revised), Becoming a Leader, Risk Management, Security, Code of Conduct/Judicial Rules, Facility Request, Travel, Grant Writing, and other relevant topics.

The policies and procedures enumerated in this handbook are intended, in part, to clarify the University's relationship to registered student organizations and are also intended for promoting awareness, values and responsible behavior. It is important to note that when persons are functioning in the capacity of members of a registered student organization, they will be held accountable for their organizationally related conduct, individually and collectively.

Administrative clarification and interpretation of the policies and procedures can be obtained from the Associate Vice President for Student Life, the Director of the Office of Student Activities and designated staff members in the Office of Student Activities.

All registered organizations are held responsible for adhering to federal, state and local laws, as well as all University regulations. The University will not become involved in the off-campus conduct of registered organizations except when such conduct is determined to have a substantially adverse effect on the University or upon members of the University community. No organization with restrictive membership clauses discriminating on the basis of age, ancestry, marital status, veteran status, color, disability, handicap, national origin, race, religion, or sex shall obtain or maintain university registration.

The purpose and/or mission of student organizations must not conflict with the educational functions or established policies of the University. No organization will be granted registered status if the University determines that its purpose and/or functions duplicate those of an already existing organization. Further, no student organization will be permitted to retain registered status if the University determines that it is not fulfilling its constitutionally stated purposes and/or functions.

Registration for Organizations - The Office of Student Activities requires registration of all organizations annually. All applicable information procedures/regulations and deadlines are posted through the University's web site. All previously registered organizations are notified through e-mail and currently active campus mail boxes (flyer notice). All policies and regulations of the University and nationally and/or state affiliated organizations are applicable in the registration process (i.e. purpose, constitution/by-laws, advisors letter of intent, officers/membership rosters, student ID, e-mail address, etc.). All required information is noted annually in a separate document available in the Office of Student Activities, and through the Coordinator for Student Organizations. Requirements for the National Pan-Hellenic Council and other Greek Organizations are governed and regulated by their national programs/policies, and the established policies of Florida A&M University, unless otherwise indicated. Please refer to the section on Supremacy of University Policies, Procedures and Regulations of this handbook.

Attendance at University Training Workshops for Clubs and Organizations/Advisors, Including Greek Letter Organizations - To assist advisors and their student organizations in having a successful year, the Office of Student Activities has instituted mandatory training workshops that are conducted during the fall and spring semesters. At least three (3) representatives of the organizations must attend these training workshops, two (2) of which, who must be officers. Agenda topics addressed include but are not limited to:

- a. Current issues/and rules governing organizations
- b. Robert's Rules of Order (revised)
- c. Leadership Training
- d. Facility Request/Approval
- e. Risk Management
- f. Security
- g. Travel
- h. Budgets (funding)
- i. Event/Activity Planning
- j. Other Relevant Topics

Advisor workshops are held separately from student workshops; however advisors are encouraged to attend all workshops.

Advisors - Advisors can be a valuable source of information. It is important to note that advisors devote a significant portion of their time to making the student's experience a rewarding one. A successful and effective organization has active advisors to assist students from time-to-time as may be required. Each organization must have at least one advisor, including Greek Letter organizations, and the advisor must be an employee in good standing of the faculty, staff and/or administration. Advisors must be full-time employees who have been employed for at least three years at the University. When there is more than one advisor of an organization, a primary advisor must be specifically designated.

Selecting an Advisor

The organization has the responsibility to select its advisor(s). While the role of an advisor varies based upon the organization's activities and purposes, it is important to keep in mind when approaching a potential advisor that the individual will have time to devote to the organization, will take the role willingly and seriously, and has knowledge and skills to assist the organization. The organization should make sure that potential advisors have a clear understanding of the organization's purpose, constitution and bylaws, what would be required of him or her, and the time commitment involved. The Office of Student Activities maintains a list of employees of the University who are interested in serving as student organization advisors.

General Responsibilities and/or Expectations of Advisors:

The organization and the advisor should devote time at the beginning of each year establishing a clear understanding of the roles each will play. Groups should set mutually agreeable expectations for the advisor, such as for meeting attendance and time commitment, and the advisor should similarly make clear his or her expectations for the officers and organization. After the organization's expectations have been laid out, it would be helpful to put them in writing and to distribute these to the group members. It is also important to update them and determine whether or not the expectations are being met throughout the year.

An advisor's actual commitment will vary depending on his or her style of leadership and the needs of the organization; however, advisors should follow these minimum guidelines:

- Provide counseling, leadership and direction regarding the interpretation of university policy.
- Ensure the membership eligibility of each student is in accordance with requirements of the club or organization and the university.
- Attend and remain present for the duration of all officer meetings, and for the majority of the organization's general meetings and activities.
- Attend and remain present for the duration of paid events, dances, and any other sponsored events and activities held in the evening.
- Ensure that members are made aware of and follow the regulations, policies, procedures, goals and objectives of the University.
- Report infractions of University procedures, polices and regulations.
- Review all programs/objectives of the organization to ensure compliance with applicable University rules, policies and regulations.
- Perform other duties and responsibilities that assist in the efficient and orderly operation of the organization.
- Discuss the financial status of the organization including identification of programs and potential solutions, and the identification of financial strengths and weaknesses.
- Discuss internal organizational difficulties (communications, delegation of responsibilities, etc.) and to assist the officers with resolution of the difficulties
- Be available to meet with the organization's officers and/or members when they request help.
- Be familiar with the organization's national structure and services, if applicable.

STUDENT RECORDS MANAGEMENT PROCEDURES

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

The Purpose

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, most often referred to as “FERPA”, deals specifically with the educational records of students, affording them certain rights with respect to those records. For purposes of definition, education records are those records which are:

- 1) Directly related to a student and
- 2) Maintained by an institution or a party acting for the institution.

FERPA gives students who reach the age of 18 or who attend a postsecondary institution the right to inspect and review their own education records. Furthermore, students have other rights, including the right to request amendment of records and to have some control over the disclosure of personally identifiable information from these records.

FERPA applies to the education records of persons who are or have been in attendance in post secondary institutions, including students in cooperative and correspondence study programs. FERPA does not apply to records of applicants for admission who are denied acceptance or, if accepted, do not attend an institution. Furthermore, rights are not given by FERPA to students enrolled in one component of an institution who seek to be admitted in another component of an institution.

For additional facts, details, and information on FERPA, please refer to the heading, “Student Records Management Procedures” under the section on “Student Consumer Rights and Responsibilities” of the University Catalog, which may be accessed online via www.famu.edu.

(b) The written appeal must specify reason(s) why consideration should be granted and should only deal with matters of record, procedure, testimony and/or evidence.

(c) No student's final penalty shall begin to run until all University appeals are exhausted or denied, except as specified under (13) above.

(24) A tape/video recording or verbatim recording of each hearing will be made and preserved until the appeal process has been exhausted. Deliberations shall not be recorded. During the appeal period the accused, with or without the company of legal counsel, and/or advisor, and/or parent with the written authorization of the Accused Student will be granted permission to listen to the recorded testimony under arrangements as determined by the University Judicial Officer, with the express understanding that the record is to remain confidential to the extent provided by law. The student may, at his/her own expense, arrange for the making of a full transcript of the hearing by employment of a stenographer and/or videographer. Other than the above modes of recording the hearing, other mechanical, electronic devices for recording or broadcasting shall be excluded from the hearing. If the student chooses to appeal, the record shall be made available to the accused and the President or Vice President for Student Affairs or his designee. Refer to University Regulation 2.012 for additional information regarding disciplinary records.

(25) The President of the University or Vice President for Student Affairs reserves the right to appoint an ad hoc committee to hear matters regarding, but not specifically limited to, the subject matter of subsections (9), (13), and (15) above. The chairperson of the committee, who may be an academic dean or director, shall be appointed by the President or Vice President for Student Affairs.

(a) The student shall have five workdays from the date of the notice to request in writing an emergency hearing at which the student may show cause why his or her continued presence on the University campus is not a threat pursuant to Section (13) of the Student Code of Conduct.

(b) The emergency hearing shall be held within five workdays of receipt of the written request from the student for an emergency hearing. The emergency hearing shall not abrogate the right of the student to request in writing a regular (non-emergency) hearing on the merits of the case, i.e., whether the student committed the alleged offense or offenses under the Student Code of Conduct. The written request from the student for a regular (non-emergency) hearing on the merits of the case must also comply with the specified time period for requesting a regular (non-emergency) hearing as stated in the notice to the student.

(26) The hearing body, ad hoc committee or University Judicial Officer shall afford the accused student with due process as, provided by FAMU Regulation 2.013, and/or Board of Governors Regulation 6C-6.0105(5). The regulations or codes implementing the due process provisions as well as other matters referenced in said rules but not included herein shall be printed in the student handbook, the FANG, under the section entitled “Student Rights, Responsibilities and Code of Conduct.”

(27) Students who have a change of address after registration must file a change of address form at the Office of the University Registrar and/or via the Our FAMU. All notices, decisions and outcomes of judicial matters connected with the disciplinary process will be mailed to the student’s last known local address as filed with the Registrar’s Office and/or via Our FAMU. All notices, decisions and outcomes of judicial matters connected with the disciplinary process will be mailed to the student’s permanent home address when there is no local address furnished to the Office of the Registrar and/or via Our FAMU by the Accused Student. This method shall constitute proper notification to the Accused Student.

(28) Disciplinary hearings shall be conducted in accordance with the following guidelines:

(a) All hearings shall be closed to the public unless required by law.

(b) The Complainant, Accused Student and his/her advisor, if any, shall be allowed to attend the entire portion of the hearing at which information is received, excluding deliberation. Admission of any person to the hearing shall be at the discretion of the University Judicial Officer or chairperson of the hearing body.

(c) In judicial hearings involving more than one Accused Student, the University Judicial Officer or the chairperson, in his or her discretion, may permit the hearing concerning each student to be conducted separately or jointly.

(d) The Complainant and the Accused Student have the right to be assisted by an advisor they choose, at their own expense. The advisor may be an attorney. The Complainant and/or the Accused Student are responsible for presenting his or her own information and, therefore advisors are not permitted to speak or participate directly in any hearing before a judicial hearing body. A student should select an advisor whose schedule allows attendance at the scheduled date and time of the hearing because delays will not normally be allowed due to the scheduling conflicts of an advisor. The student must provide, in writing, to the University Judicial Officer or the chairperson of the hearing body, the name, mailing or email address, and phone number of his/her advisor at least three workdays days prior to the hearing date.

(e) The Complainant and the Accused Student may arrange for witnesses to present pertinent information to the hearing body. The University will try to arrange the attendance of possible witnesses who are members of the University community, if reasonably possible and who are identified by the Complainant and/or the Accused Student at least three workdays prior to the judicial hearing. Witnesses will provide information to and answer questions from the hearing body and the Accused Student. No witness may be compelled to provide self-incriminating information.

(f) If the Accused Student fails to appear at the hearing after being properly notified, the hearing body may hear the case on the basis of evidence accumulated as a result of witnesses and shall notify the Accused Student of the decision. In the absence of the Accused Student, the plea of not responsible shall be entered on the student's behalf by the chairperson of the hearing body.

(g) An Accused student may request only one postponement of a judicial hearing by contacting in writing the University Judicial Officer at least three workdays prior to the hearing. Postponement of the hearing shall be at the discretion of the University Judicial Officer or his/her designee.

(h) Witnesses shall not serve as advisors at any judicial hearing. At the time of the hearing, an automatic postponement shall be granted if the composition requirements of the hearing body are not met.

(i) If any member of the hearing body feels that he or she had previous contact with the case or with the students involved so that a fair judgment cannot be rendered, the member must request that he or she not serve for the hearing. The Accused Student may request that any member of the hearing body be excused whenever the student can show a bias on the part of the member. The chairperson of the hearing body will decide on such challenges and, if appropriate, ask the member to excuse him or herself. If the chairperson of the hearing body is challenged by the student, the hearing body will decide by a majority vote whether or not the chairperson should be requested to excuse him or herself, notwithstanding that the chairperson does not vote on whether the Accused Student is responsible or not responsible for violating the Code.

(j) An Accused student may be diverted from the disciplinary process or hearing if prior to or during the disciplinary process or hearing, it is determined by Associate Vice President for Student Affairs pursuant to Sections (6-13) of University Regulation 2.007, Voluntary and Involuntary Withdrawal, that the Accused student has a mental disorder and the objectionable behavior appears to be a result of the mental disorder.

(k) Pertinent records, exhibits, and written statements may be accepted as information for consideration at the discretion of the chairperson of the hearing body.

(l) All procedural questions are subject to the final decision of the chairperson of the hearing body.

(m) After the portion of the judicial hearing concludes in which all pertinent information has been received, the hearing body shall determine by a majority vote whether the Accused

Student is responsible or not responsible for violating each section of the Code which the Accused Student is charged. The chairperson of the hearing body cannot vote.

(n) Formal rules of process, procedure, and/or technical rules of evidence, such as are applied in criminal or civil court proceedings, are not used in Student Code of Conduct hearings.

(o) The burden of proof in all judicial hearings shall be on the accuser. A “preponderance of evidence” shall constitute the burden of proof standard in all judicial hearings.

(p) The University Judicial Officer and/or the chairperson of the hearing body, under extraordinary circumstances, may accommodate concerns for the personal safety, well-being, and/or fears of confrontation of the Complainant, Accused Student, and/or witnesses during the hearing by providing separate waiting rooms and/or by permitting participation, when feasible, by video conferencing, videotape, audio tape, or other means.

(q) The disciplinary hearing body is comprised of faculty members, staff members, administrators and students. The composition is variable from 3 to 5 persons, depending upon the nature of the violation. At least one of the members must be a student.

(r) The above guidelines for conducting a judicial hearing are not exhaustive. Therefore, the University Judicial Officer may adopt additional guidelines for the conduct of judicial hearings that are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Code. Such procedural guidelines must be approved by the Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee and must be in writing and made available to the Accused Student and all witnesses at least three workdays prior to the hearing.

(29) Victim Rights –Victim is defined as the person harmed by a violation of the Code by the Accused Student. Victims of violations of the Code have the following rights in accordance with all federal and state laws:

(a) To have an advisor of the alleged victim’s choice accompany him/her when presenting information to the hearing body and to any other relevant meetings held throughout the disciplinary process.

(b) To submit a victim impact statement to the hearing body. This information may be used only in the sanctioning phase of deliberations, if the Accused Student is found responsible for the violations/charges. If the Accused Student appeals the decision on the basis of severity of the sanction imposed, he/she will have the right to view the victim’s impact statement upon written request.

(c) To have unrelated past behavior excluded from the hearing. The University Judicial Officer or chairperson of the hearing body will decide if such information is unrelated.

(d) To submit questions to the Judicial Office at least three workdays prior to the hearing. The University Judicial Officer will decide whether the questions are relevant and should be presented at the hearing.

(e) To be present throughout the hearings, or portions thereof, at the discretion of the University Judicial Officer.

(f) To have personal property returned to them if in the current possession of the University. The determination of when this property may be returned is left to the University Judicial Officer and/or University Department of Law Enforcement.

(g) To be notified of the outcome, including both the decisions and the sanctions of the disciplinary process.

(h) For victims of sexual battery, refer to additional rights noted under Section (10) r above.

(30) Unless specifically stated otherwise herein, the provisions of this Code should be read and interpreted broadly, and are not intended to define misconduct in exhaustive terms.

Therefore, the manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, service, sale, consumption or use of alcoholic beverages in all facilities or upon properties and grounds leased, owned or operated by FAMU is prohibited unless specifically permitted as set forth below.

(3) Upon satisfaction of all legal and regulatory requirements, the possession, service, sale, consumption or distribution of alcoholic beverages at FAMU is restricted as follows:

(a) No alcoholic beverages may be possessed, served, sold, consumed or distributed at the University except the following FAMU Designated Areas: President’s Box (Bragg Stadium); Alumni House; Faculty Club House; Center for Viticultural Sciences & Small Fruit Research Center for Water Quality; and Alfred Lawson Multipurpose Teaching Gymnasium.

(b) No individual under the legal drinking age of 21 may serve, sell, purchase, distribute, consume or possess alcohol on FAMU properties or at FAMU sponsored activities or events except to the extent permitted by law or unless specifically engaged in an approved and supervised academic program that does not involve the actual ingestion of alcohol by an individual under the legal drinking age.

(c) Alcoholic beverages must be served by a licensed and insured third party vendor, who is properly trained regarding Florida’s underage drinking laws and who has appropriate permits. Alcoholic beverages shall not be served to persons under the legal drinking age.

(e) A written document, contract or agreement, facility request form, memorandum or letter describing the type of event, number of attendees and appropriate event controls shall be submitted to the President or President's designee for approval at least two (2) weeks prior to the scheduled date of the event at the FAMU Designated Areas. Approval may be granted based on demonstrated intent to comply with the requirements set forth in this regulation and proof of appropriate licenses and permits for such events. Any event which will have student attendance also will require the approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs and the Dean of Students.

Any announcement or advertisement, including but not limited to a flyer, notice, poster, banner, tee-shirt, promotional item, newspaper and radio advertisement concerning the event shall note the availability of non-alcoholic beverages at the event as prominently as the availability of alcoholic beverages and note that proper identification is required in order to be served or sold alcoholic beverages, and shall not make reference to the amount of alcoholic beverages to be served at the event. Such advertisements or announcements shall not portray the drinking of alcoholic beverages as a solution to personal or academic problems or as necessary to social, professional, political, personal or academic success.

(g) The only alcoholic beverages that may be served, sold, purchased, distributed, consumed or possessed at FAMU are those alcoholic beverages served at the activity or event, and the served alcoholic beverages must be consumed within the facility or space designated.

(h) The FAMU Department of Public Safety (Department) must be notified of any and all events involving the possession, service, sale, consumption or distribution of alcoholic beverages at FAMU. In such cases, the Department's expense must be paid by the sponsoring individual(s) or group(s) unless waived by the President or President's designee.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of this regulation, requests related to the possession, service, sale, consumption or distribution of alcoholic beverages outside of the FAMU Designated Areas must be considered by the FAMU Board of Trustees. Any and all approvals by the FAMU Board of Trustees must be consistent with the requirements set forth in this regulation.

The Millennial FAMUan: Dress Standards***

The dress standards are based on the theory that learning to use socially acceptable manners and selecting attire appropriate to specific occasions and activities are critical factors in the total educational process. Understanding and employing these behaviors not only improves the quality of one's life, but also contributes to optimum morale, as well as embellishes the overall campus image. They also play a major role in instilling a sense of integrity and an appreciation for values and ethics.

The continuous demonstration of appropriate manners and dress insures that the students meet the very minimum standards of quality achievement in the social, physical, moral and educational aspects of their lives - essential areas of development necessary for propelling students toward successful careers. At Florida A&M University, students should dress in a way that shows respect for not only themselves, but all other students. We believe FAMUANS would expect students attending the University to dress in ways that uplift their sense of decency, culture and professionalism. The right of students to include in their wardrobe a broad array of various types, styles, colors, and expressions is fully recognized. All students, however, have a vested interest in the image of Florida A&M University, and certain types of clothing tend to reflect negatively upon the University and tend to disrupt the educational process.

Students will be denied admission to various functions if their manner of dress is inappropriate. Inappropriate shall be defined as anything that may cause a disturbance to the learning environment. On this premise students at the University are expected to dress neatly at all times.

Examples of inappropriate dress and/or appearance include but are not limited to:

- Pajamas, midriffs or halters, mesh, netted shirts, tube tops, cutoff tee shirts, scarves, caps, pants below waistline revealing undergarments, do-rags and/or hoods in classrooms, dining halls, snack bar, library, student center, and offices. This policy does not apply to headgear considered as a part of religious or cultural dress.
- Bare feet anywhere on campus except inside a residence hall.
- Clothing with derogatory, offensive and/or lewd messages either in words or pictures.
- All of the aforementioned items, including shorts and jeans of any color at major programs such as Musical Arts, Convocations, Commencements, Career Fair, or other programs dictating professional, dressy, or formal attire.

All administrative, faculty and support staff members will be expected to monitor student behavior applicable to this dress standard and report any such disregard or violations to the Dean of Students Office.

Note: The aforementioned standards contain excerpts from the University of Maryland Eastern Shore and Hampton University.

*BOT Approved 04/05/12. The dress standards shall be officially enforced at the beginning of Fall Semester 2012 and thereafter.

Parental Notification of Alcohol and Drug Violations

- It is the policy of Florida A&M University to notify the parents of dependent students under the age of 21 who violate laws governing the use of possession of alcohol or other controlled substances. This includes federal, state and local laws, rules and regulations
- The parents of any dependent student under the age of 21 violating the alcohol and drug policy will be notified by the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or his designee(s). The notification of parents is an intervention that is based upon assisting students in making safe and healthy lifestyle choices.

Pets and Other Animals on Campus

For safety and health reasons, all pets—including, but not specifically limited to dogs, cats, birds, snakes/reptiles, horses and other animals, are not allowed on the campus of Florida A&M University. Any individual failing to comply with this policy shall be requested to leave the campus until off-campus accommodation for the pet(s) and animals can be arranged. Pets and other animals may be allowed on campus when the University determines it is in its best interests, i.e., to meet the requirements of an instructional program and/or as a federal land grant institution; to comply with local, state and federal requirements concerning disabled or physically challenged individuals who require seeing eye dogs, etc.; and to allow certain officially approved events/activities on campus wherein the use of animals is integrated into the events/activities, e.g., a circus, dog/kennel club show, etc.

Policy on Observance of Religious Holy Days by Students

All University students shall be allowed to observe holy days of their religious faith. The University shall reasonably accommodate the religious observance, practice and belief of individual students in regard to admissions, class attendance, and the scheduling of examinations and work assignments.

Accordingly, the University requires:

1. A student who wishes to observe a religious holy day of his or her religious faith shall notify, in writing, all of his or her instructors and the appropriate academic dean, in order to be excused from class to observe the religious holy day. This written notice should be provided at the beginning of each semester but no later than 10 days prior to the observed religious holy day.
2. The student shall be held responsible for any material covered during the excused absence, but shall be permitted a reasonable amount of time to make up any work missed. Where practical, major examinations, work assignments, and/or university ceremonies, will not be scheduled on a major religious holy day.
3. Students who are absent from academic or social activities because of religious observances, shall not be penalized by his or her instructors and/or university administrators.
4. Any student who feels that he or she has been unreasonably denied educational benefits because of his or her religious belief or practice may informally seek redress by presenting, in writing, the nature of his or her grievance to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs or the Vice President for Student Affairs who will investigate and document each occurrence (grievance) and ensure that appropriate corrective action is taken to assure compliance with this policy.
5. If the matter is not resolved satisfactorily at step 4, the student may file a complaint pursuant to Regulation 10.103, with the Office of Equal Opportunity Programs.

6. This Policy shall be included in the student handbook, and/or other similar documents regularly provided to the faculty and students.
