Course Description
This course is a Survey of English literature from beginning to 1785.

Course Purpose
To impart knowledge to students about the ideas, values, and culture(s) of the English people as reflected in the various literary form that developed from the 5th century through the latter part of the 18th century.

Conceptual Framework
The Conceptual Framework in the Professional Education Unit (PEU) at Florida A&M University is an integrated approach to providing educational experiences that result in exemplary professional educators. The Framework is comprised of six themes with the mission of developing high quality classroom teachers, administrators and support personnel. The term “exemplary” refers to the kind of graduates the PEU strives to produce. The figure below provides a diagram of the Exemplary Professional Conceptual Framework.

National and State Standards Addressed in the Course

NCTE/IRA Standards for the English Language Arts

1. Students read a wide range of print and nonprint texts to build an understanding of texts, of themselves, and of the cultures of the United States and the world; to acquire new information; to respond to the needs and demands of society and the workplace; and for personal fulfillment. Among these texts are fiction and nonfiction, classic and contemporary works.

2. Students read a wide range of literature from many periods in many genres to build an understanding of the many dimensions (e.g., philosophical, ethical, aesthetic) of human experience.

3. Students apply a wide range of strategies to comprehend, interpret, evaluate, and appreciate texts. They draw on their prior experience, their interactions with other readers and writers, their knowledge of word meaning and of other texts, their word identification strategies, and their understanding of textual features (e.g., sound-letter correspondence, sentence structure, context, graphics).

4. Students adjust their use of spoken, written, and visual language (e.g., conventions, style, vocabulary) to communicate effectively with a variety of audiences and for different purposes.
5. Students employ a wide range of strategies as they write and use different writing process elements appropriately to communicate with different audiences for a variety of purposes.
6. Students apply knowledge of language structure, language conventions (e.g., spelling and punctuation), media techniques, figurative language, and genre to create, critique, and discuss print and nonprint texts.
7. Students conduct research on issues and interests by generating ideas and questions, and by posing problems. They gather, evaluate, and synthesize data from a variety of sources (e.g., print and nonprint texts, artifacts, people) to communicate their discoveries in ways that suit their purpose and audience.
8. Students use a variety of technological and informational resources (e.g., libraries, databases, computer networks, video) to gather and synthesize information and to create and communicate knowledge.
9. Students develop an understanding of and respect for diversity in language use, patterns, and dialects across cultures, ethnic groups, geographic regions, and social roles.
10. Students whose first language is not English make use of their first language to develop competency in the English language arts and to develop understanding of content across the curriculum.
11. Students participate as knowledgeable, reflective, creative, and critical members of a variety of literacy communities.
12. Students use spoken, written, and visual language to accomplish their own purposes (e.g., for learning, enjoyment, persuasion, and the exchange of information).

NAEYC – Standards for Professional Preparation

At the advanced level, these tools are essential components of each specialization and of each of the five NAEYC standards:
(1) Promoting Child Development and Learning;
(2) Building Family and Community Relationships;
(3) Observing, Documenting, and Assessing to Support Young Children and Families;
(4) Teaching and Learning; and (5) Growing as a Professional.

1. Cultural Competence: Advanced program candidates demonstrate a high level of competence in understanding and responding to diversity of culture, language, and ethnicity.
2. Knowledge and Application of Ethical Principles: Advanced program candidates demonstrate in depth knowledge and thoughtful application of NAEYC’s Code of Ethical Conduct and other
3. Communication Skills: Advanced program candidates possess a high level of oral, written, and technological communication skills, with specialization for the specific professional role(s) emphasized in the program.
4. Mastery of Relevant Theory and Research: Advanced program candidates demonstrate in depth, critical knowledge of the theory and research relevant to the professional role(s) and focus area(s) emphasized in the program.
5. Skills in Identifying and Using Professional Resources: Advanced program candidates demonstrate a high level of skill in identifying and using the human, material, and technological resources needed to perform their professional roles and to keep abreast of the field’s changing knowledge base.
6. Inquiry Skills and Knowledge of Research Methods: Using systematic and professionally accepted approaches, advanced program candidates demonstrate inquiry skills, showing their ability to investigate questions relevant to their practice and professional goals.
7. Skills in Collaborating, Teaching, and Mentoring: Advanced program candidates demonstrate the flexible, varied skills needed to work collaboratively and effectively with other adults in professional roles.
8. Advocacy Skills: Advanced program candidates demonstrate competence in articulating and advocating for sound professional practices and public policies for the positive development
9. Leadership Skills: Advanced program candidates reflect on and use their abilities and opportunities to think strategically, build consensus, create change, and influence better outcomes for children, families, and the profession.

4.1.7 Integrate throughout the ELA curriculum learning opportunities in which students demonstrate their abilities to use language for a variety of purposes in communication;

4.1.8 Engage students in discovering their personal response to texts and ways to connect such responses to other larger meanings and critical stances;

4.1.9 Demonstrate how reading comprehension strategies are flexible for making and monitoring meaning in both print and nonprint texts and teach a wide variety of such strategies to all students; Integrate assessment consistently into instruction by:

   4.1.9.1 Establishing criteria and developing strategies for assessment that allow all students to understand what they know and can do in light of their instructional experiences;

   4.1.9.2 Interpreting the individual and group results of any assessments and drawing upon a variety of information in these assessments to inform instruction;

   4.1.9.3 Assisting all students in becoming monitors of their own work and growth in speaking, listening, writing, reading, enacting, and viewing;

   4.1.9.4 Explaining to students, parents, and others concerned with education how students are assessed.

Interstate New Teacher Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC) Standards & the Florida Professional Educator Accomplished Practices

1. ASSESSMENT

1.1 The preprofessional teacher collects and uses data gathered from a variety of sources. These sources include both traditional and alternate assessment strategies. Furthermore, the teacher can identify and match the students’ instructional plans with their cognitive, social, linguistic, cultural, emotional, and physical needs.

2. 1.PRE.a Analyzes individuals’ learning needs and practices techniques which accommodate differences, including linguistic and cultural differences.

1.PRE.j Interprets, with assistance, data from various informal and standardized assessment procedures.

1.PRE.k Reviews assessment data and identifies students’ strengths and weaknesses.

1.PRE.l Communicates individual student progress in student, parent, and staff conferences.
