2009 proved to be a significant year for education policy with the infusion of stimulus funding for education, the various policies and guidance that accompanied those funds, and the introduction of a new Administration focused on laying the groundwork for the reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. In this webinar, hear from AACTE staff about how the 2009 movement in federal and state policies around teacher quality will impact the landscape in 2010. Presenters will address Congress' and the Administration's agendas as well as anticipated efforts at the state level that will impact educator preparation programs.

Presenters:

- Jane West - Senior Vice President, Policy, Programs and Professional Issues, AACTE
- Mary Harrill-McClellan - Director, Government Relations, AACTE
- Kimberly Riley - Manager for State Programs and Policies, AACTE

Location: Teaching Learning Institute, Gore Education Complex, Building C, Room 203
