Artifact: Educational Website

Dr. Kelley EME 4400 Spring 2010

Reflection

This artifact contains my Educational Website. I chose this artifact because it shows my ability to use technology to enhance the instruction in my classroom. It also shows my ability to use technology both at school and personally. This artifact will benefit me in the future because I will be able to use technology effectively in my classroom to plan and teach lessons. I will also be able to use technology to communicate with my students, parents, staff, and community. This artifact will benefit my students because they will be able to use technology to learn and explore the world around them. They will also be able to use technology for communication purposes as well.

This artifact relates to the Accomplished Practice Technology in that it selects and utilizes education software for instruction and management purposes based upon reviews and recommendations of other professionals, teaches students to use available computers and other forms of technology, and uses technology to assist with instructional and classroom management. This artifact relates to the Conceptual Framework Technology in that it uses a variety of technology tools and software to support student learning, uses technology to prepare and teach lessons, and teaches students to use various types of technology.

Web Links:

1. Educational Website