DATABASES

CINAHL:
This is a database of references to journal papers dating back to 1982. Subject coverage focuses on nursing and midwifery journals but also includes primary journals from allied health disciplines such as physiotherapy, health education and nutrition. Most references are to articles, but the database also includes books, dissertations, conference proceedings and other publications.

Cochrane Library:
The Cochrane Library is a collection of databases that contain high quality independent evidence to inform healthcare decision making. Cochrane Reviews represent the highest level of evidence on which to base clinical treatment decisions. In addition to Cochrane Reviews, the Cochrane Library provides other sources of reliable information, from other systematic review abstracts to technology assessments to economic evaluations and individual clinical trials.

Evidence-Based Resources From the Joanna Briggs Institute:
This database has systematic reviews, evidence summaries, and best practice information sheets for nursing and allied health sciences.

Health & Wellness Resource Center:
Easy-to-find answers via an intuitive and customizable interface makes this an ideal resource for researchers of all ages and levels of study. Its Alternative Health module includes even more references, full text journals and the new Disease Profiler Module.
Health Reference Center Academic:
This database provides information on health and wellness designed especially for the layperson. It contains indexing to medical journals and consumer health magazines. In addition, the full text on more than 4050 health pamphlets, six medical reference books and articles from more than ISO general interest magazines is available.

Medline:
MEDLINE CSA contains over 4 million citations and abstracts. The database contains a broad range of medical topics relating to research, clinical practice, administration, policy issues, and health care services.

MedlinePlus:
Medical encyclopedia, interactive patient tutorials and the latest health news information.

PubMed:
PubMed is a service of the U. S. National Library of Medicine that includes over 16 million citations from MEDLINE and other life science journals for biomedical articles back to the 1950’s. PubMed includes links to full text articles and other related resources
