Based on each of your objectives, please describe any special events, issues, concerns, successes, or recognition experienced by your program or the members this month. Attach copies of news articles, reports, awards, etc. as you think appropriate.

I. Needs and Services:

Program Objective 1. The AmeriCorps HBCU Mentoring Alliance members will provide long term one-to one mentoring to grades K-12.

The AmeriCorps members mentored students in 4th grade who were enrolled in the Summer Program at the FAMU Developmental Research School. The students mentored failed the FCAT and needed special assistance with self-concept and basic academic skills.

The number of K-12 students served during this period:

The number of K-12 students served year to date:

| 279 |

*Note: Summer session ended August 6, 2007.

Program Objective 2. The AmeriCorps members will mentor freshman and sophomore students at Florida A&M University).

The AmeriCorps members mentored students in the Freshman Studies Program. These are first-time-in-college students who are required to attend summer school prior to their enrollment for fall semester. They are students who need a support system. The AmeriCorps members were assigned three students to mentor, but many members mentored more than their assigned students. Also, members provided group mentoring to the freshman students. The number of students mentored individually was ninety-one - (91) Freshman Studies, and thirty (31) other freshman students.

Two hundred and twenty-nine (229) students received one-to-one mentoring. These are students who met with their mentor more than once. The remaining Six hundred and Ninety-five (696) students met with members only one time. The students whom the AmeriCorps members mentored were incoming freshmen during Freshman Orientation sessions. The AmeriCorps members explained and discussed with the students the importance of academic advisement, college life and the challenges of adjusting to college. They also taught the students how to register for classes online. They also served as tour-guides to show students the various buildings and departments on campus.
The summer session ended August 3, 2007. During the first week of August, the Freshman Studies students were busy taking final exams. AmeriCorps members served as mentors during summer Freshman Orientation and assisted the academic advisors with registering 261 freshman students. They utilized computers and assisted the freshman students with class registration.

Please provide the number of college freshmen and/or sophomores served during this period: 261

Please provide the number of college freshmen and/or sophomores to date: 930

II. Community Strengthening:

There wasn't any community involvement during the month of August because the AmeriCorps members (39) had earned the required 450 service hours, and they left the program by August 3, 2007. The remaining three students completed their 450 service hours by August 17, 2007. Only one (01) AmeriCorps member did not complete the required service hours. A plan was developed with the member but the member did not follow through. A total of (43/87.7%) students received the educational award.

Number of service projects coordinated or participated in during this reporting period: 0

III. Member Development:

The training conducted during this period:

- Mentors (Members) Recognition Program

1. A Recognition Program was held for the AmeriCorps members sponsored by the Dean and the academic advisors in the School of General Studies. The dean thanked the AmeriCorps members for the great job they had done in mentoring the Freshman Studies students as well as mentoring the in-coming freshmen on Friday of each week during the weekly Freshman Orientation Sessions. The program director thanked the members for working so hard as mentors and for meeting their obligations with the Freshman Studies students and incoming freshman students. She also complimented the students for completion of at least 450 hours, and gave special recognition to members who exceeded 450 hours. The director presented watches to the AmeriCorps members who performed over six hundred service hours mentoring students. Certificates of Recognition were presented to all AmeriCorps members for the outstanding job of mentoring freshman students. Those students who had completed a second year expressed their appreciation for the opportunity to mentor and for the lessons learned through volunteering.

2. End-of-the-Year Evaluation

The director of the AmeriCorps Program completed an-end-of-the-year evaluation on the AmeriCorps members. She discussed their performance as mentors and gathered their opinions regarding the program and training activities. Many members expressed a desire to return to the program for a second year.

3. Evaluation of Program by AmeriCorps Members

The AmeriCorps members were given the opportunity to evaluate the training activities and the overall program. The assessment of the program was on a scale of 1-5 where 5=excellent, 4=good, 3=satisfactory, 2=fair, and 1=poor. The members’ assessment of the program was rated as follows:

B. Describe a Unique or memorable experience you had as an AmeriCorps Member:

- Group Discussions
- I wish I could complete the program a third year. Thanks AmeriCorps!
- Meeting wonderful people and getting to know, help, and guide them in the right direction.
- Assisting some young ladies to understand math and they returned the next day and said thank you. This was very gratifying.
Working with a little girl at the Smith-Williams Service Center who had a behavior problem. By the end of the program, she really interacted with me and I could see a change in her demeanor.

My greatest moment was going to the Homeless Shelter assisting with feeding the homeless people. I had never done anything like that and I will never forget the experience.

When the dean of the School of General Studies told us that all the students we mentored during the summer had passed their exit exam. It was a good feeling knowing you played a role in the success.

Making new friends. (4)

Mentoring students at Florida A&M University Developmental Research school (4)

AmeriCorps helped me to grow as an individually and make a contribution in the community.

Mentoring and tutoring the students at the Smith-Williams Service Center. So many of them had serious academic needs.

Attending the Conflict Resolution Seminar sponsored by Volunteer Florida. It was a good seminar.

Volunteering at the Homeless Shelter. (3)

Developing lasting friendships with other AmeriCorps members.

Mentoring Seminar

Seeing the achievement level of students improving a great deal.

Making a difference in the lives of others.

Meeting different people.

Mentoring and tutoring students for the exit exam.

Working with a frustrated young lady and she was delighted to have me as her mentor and appreciated what I helped her with was awesome.

Assisting my mentee with finding an apartment and to complete her financial aid papers. She was so appreciative.

I learned a lot in the Shelter Operation and Conflict Resolution Seminars.

Freshman Studies Students passing the exit exam.

Mentoring the Freshman Studies students

CRP Training (2)

Leaving the Study Skills Center at the end of the day and knowing you have helped someone.

What I like best about the AmeriCorps Program….

- Mentors are helpful in the classroom
- The one-to-one positive relationships that our students have with AmeriCorps HBCU Mentoring alliance program
- This is an excellent program
- The support provided for classroom instructors and overall student achievement.
- Preplanning involvement with coordinating student activities.
- The attention given students by mentors.

This AmeriCorps Program can be improved by….

- Starting earlier will benefit more students.
- Greater promotion for broader awareness and more community support.
- Current program is excellent

Accomplishments:

1. Exit forms on WBRS were completed on all members within the time frame.

2. Out of 49 AmeriCorps members, the program was able to retain 44 (90%) quarter members for the summer Program. Of the forty-four members, forty-three (43/87.7%) completed the program and earned 450 or more hours to earned the educational award. The majority of the AmeriCorps members earned more than the required 450 hours. Three (3) AmeriCorps members earned more than six hundred (600) service hours toward their educational award.

Total 43

2. AmeriCorps members mentored and tutored students in the Freshman Studies Program (first-time-in-college) who were required to attend the Study Skills Center at least 10 hours per week. Ninety-one (91) students were mentored and tutored on a regular basis. Of the ninety-two students, one hundred percent (91/100%) fulfilled the requirements for becoming full-fledged college students, for fall semester 2007.

3. Students admitted to the Freshman Studies program were enrolled in a total of three courses comprising eight (8) semester hours. Seventy-eight (85.7%) passed all three courses in which they were enrolled, and thirteen (14.3%) passed two courses.

5. Of the ninety-one (91) Freshman Studies students who received one-to-one mentoring, ninety (90/98%) returned to school for fall semester 2007.

6. This is the second consecutive year that Freshman Studies students’ success has improved over prior years. This can be attributed to the mentoring and tutoring that the AmeriCorps provided. Many AmeriCorps students spent countless hours providing one-to-one mentoring and tutoring to their assigned mentees and other freshman students who reported to the Study Skills Center. After the summer program was over, many of the mentees returned to the Study Skills Center to thank their mentors (AmeriCorps members) for the service they provided during the summer.

7. The AmeriCorps members received all required training.
8. At the end of the summer, many mentees experiences were so positive with their mentors that they expressed to the dean their desire to have a mentor available when they return Fall Semester 2007.

9. The AmeriCorps members had the opportunity to get involved with community agencies and understand the true meaning of rendering needed services to others. They participated in community activities such as the mentoring students at the Smith –Williams Community Center, planning Relay for Life, supervising health booths at Be Out Day, and serving meals at the Homeless Shelter. The students were so overwhelmed with issuing clothing and feeding the homeless they asked to return for a second visit.
