Congratulations on your acceptance to Florida A&M University!

We hope that you are as excited as we are about the start of this new and important phase of your life. The college experience is one that you will remember and cherish for years to come. We encourage you to take advantage of the many opportunities and experiences for growth that Florida A&M University has to offer. The Orientation process is the first step toward becoming a full-fledged college student. This page is designed to give you an idea of what to expect from your orientation experience.

New Student Orientation (NSO) coordinates Florida A&M University's collective efforts to provide programs and services to newly admitted first year and transfer undergraduate students that will facilitate their transition into FAMU, prepare them for the institution's educational opportunities, and initiate their integration into the institution's intellectual, cultural, and social climate.

As a component of the Division of Student Affairs, the office of New Student Orientation is also committed to providing leadership in the development of a cooperative effort among the independent orienting initiatives of the university’s undergraduate academic and student support programs.

Source: http://www.famu.edu/index.cfm?a=newstudentorientation