A time-limited position shall have the same rights as a position with a regular appointment modifier, except such position shall not have retention rights provided for layoff and recall.

3. Appointment Modifiers

The University shall use the following appointment modifiers, which define the conditions of an employee's appointment. Such appointment modifiers apply to the appointment of a qualified employee unless otherwise stated. Appointments shall be made only to positions that have been established in accordance with the University's Classification Plan.

a) Promotional Appointment

- 1) Faculty promotion is the appointment to a higher academic or equivalent rank or class and may also be combined with an application for tenure. The criteria for promotion shall include meeting the minimum qualifications for appointment to the rank or position, increased skill in teaching, increased knowledge in the field of specialty, increased recognition as an authority in the field, and potential for professional growth. The University shall provide for Faculty participation in developing promotion recommendations and other procedures and criteria for Faculty promotion.
- 2) An A&P promotion is the appointment to another position or higher classification with substantially increased responsibilities, or a regular assignment of substantially increased responsibilities for the existing classification. An employee must meet the minimum qualifications for the position to which promoted.
- 3) An USPS promotion is the appointment to a class or position with substantially increased responsibilities. An employee must meet the minimum qualifications for the position to which promoted. Upon promotion, the employee's appointment modifier shall be determined pursuant to provisions of this regulation.
- 4) In some cases promotion may be in title or classification only and may not be associated with pay increases.

b) Demotion Appointment

- 1) A demotion is an appointment to a class or position having reduced level of responsibility. Upon demotion, an USPS employee's appointment modifier shall be determined pursuant to provisions of this policy; however, if the employee previously held regular status in the class to which demoted, the demotion shall be with regular status.

- 2) A decrease in salary may be warranted upon demotion.

c) Reduction in Classification Status Appointment

- 1) Unlike a demotion, in some cases an employee may apply for and be hired or be appointed to an individual classification in a lower pay level than previously held. Salaries in these cases should be commensurate with existing FAMU classification ranges. However, if by virtue of the position's market value, level of responsibility, critical organizational need; labor market competitiveness or overlapping value in pay level ranges, the previous salary or a minor increase with justification (e.g., 3% to 4%) commensurate with conditions above, may be considered. The adjusted salary should be no higher than the maximum of the new position's recommended classification hiring range; must not be higher than the maximum of the classification's pay level range; or a level that would create internal inequity.

d) Change-in-Assignment or Lateral Move Appointment

- 1) Faculty-The President or Provost may for the best interest of the University, and at any time, assign a Faculty member to other institutional assignment(s). This change-in-assignment will take place only after consultation with the employee and the departments or other affected units. Regardless of the change-in-assignment, however, the University is committed to compensate the employee at a salary commensurate with the new assignment. Change-in-Assignments in conjunction with a non-reappointment shall be made pursuant to Regulations 10.207.
- 2) A&P and AP EX.- The President or President's designee may for the best interest of the University, and at any time, assign an employee in A&P or A&P Executive status to other institutional assignment(s) within the same or different classification. The change in work assignments will take place after noticing the employee and any affected departments or other units. Regardless of the change-in-assignment; however, the University is committed to compensate the employee at a salary commensurate with the new assignment.
- 3) USPS-The President or President's designee may for the best interest of the University or organizational need, and at any time, assign an employee USPS status to other institutional assignment(s) within the same or different classification. The change in work assignments will take place after noticing the employee (a minimum of 14 days or not required during an emergency) and any affected departments or other units. Regardless of the change-in-assignment; however, the University is committed to compensate the employee at a salary commensurate with the new assignment.
- 4) An A&P or USPS lateral move is the appointment (hired into or appointed) to a different position in the same classification or in a different classification having the same levels of responsibility and pay levels. If a lateral move (same classification, scope of duties and/or level of responsibility) no pay increase should be expected.
- 5) An USPS employee who has not attained regular status in the current class receives a change-in-assignment or lateral move to a different position in the same class, the employee's status remains the same until the probationary period designated for the class has been successfully completed.
- 6) An USPS employee with or without regular status in the current class who receives a change in assignment or lateral move to a different position in a different class shall be given probationary status in the new class if the employee meets the minimum qualifications for the position; however, if the employee previously held regular status in the class to which reassigned, the change-in-assignment shall be with regular status.
